Prepositions are words that are placed before a noun or a pronoun to show its position or relation with the other noun or a pronoun.

e.g. I like to eat hamburgers with fries.

Here, with is the preposition. It is placed before the noun fries and shows relationship between hamburgers and fries.

Some other prepositions are – in, on, at, under, between, of, among, in front of, above, over, below, through, behind, into and beside.

A. Read the given paragraph and underline the Prepositions.

Yesterday, Rahul went to the pet store with his dad to buy a pet fish. Rahul saw a goldfish at the pet store. It was in a fish tank. The tank was below a cage, between the dog house and the couch. There were several fishes in the tank. Among them, the goldfish looked the most beautiful. When Rahul put his hand in the fish tank, it darted through the plants and hid behind a rock. Rahul bought the goldfish. The storekeeper put it into a plastic bag filled with water. It now lives at Rahul's home, and it is one of his favourite pets.
